

Takeda Expands Patient Assistance in the U.S. During COVID-19 Crisis

April 22, 2020

To our valued patients, customers and other stakeholders,

As the COVID-19 crisis continues to unfold, Takeda's Patient Assistance Response team is working around the clock to help ensure that the people who need our medicines and treatments can continue to access them safely and without interruption.

Consistent with our commitment to prioritizing patients' needs, Takeda has enhanced its existing patient assistance programs for U.S. patients who qualify and need extra help during this difficult time. Highlights include:

- Implementing a new Job Loss Provision for Takeda's Help at Hand program and Takeda's Oncology Patient Support program to help eligible patients who have lost a job and are experiencing a financial hardship due to the COVID-19 pandemic. - Enhancing free drug programs for eligible patients enrolled in Takeda's OnePath, Entyvio Connect, Hematology Support Center, and Takeda's Oncology Patient Support programs, who have experienced a loss or gap in insurance coverage due to COVID-19;
- Extending the eligibility period for certain patients currently enrolled in Takeda's patient assistance programs to help reduce the time patients spend on securing medication approvals so they can focus on their health and safety during the pandemic;
- Implementing virtual training that pairs specially-trained nurses with patients to teach proper self-administration of certain Takeda medicines from the safety of patients' own homes. For more information, see contact information for Takeda's Patient Assistance Programs below.
